For the last two and a half years, Revision Space has held 16 exhibitions and presented dozens of artists through memorable solo and group shows. We put the gallery and its artists on the map at art fairs in Houston and Miami, brought special guest curators and museum directors for amazing events, and collaborated with top galleries to bring artists from all over the globe. We've now come to represent an expanded international program in Houston with the opening of Cindy Lisica Gallery, and the time has come to close our storefront space in upper Lawrenceville. Let's celebrate the accomplishments and fantastic reputation we developed in the contemporary art scene in Pittsburgh. The opening reception will feature available artwork by local artists from our roster and will also present unseen new work by artists from our friends at Anya Tish Gallery (Houston) and C.A.V.E. Gallery (Los Angeles). There will be drinks and treats, a drawing to win original art, and an exclusive backroom sale.
